Natural Wicker & Rattan Furniture

Indoor wicker furniture, also called Rattan furniture is a fantastic choice for items that are comfortable, stylish and long-lasting. Rattan is the material that indoor wicker furniture is made from. Wicker is not a material, it is the weaving process of smaller size Standards of rattan. Anything woven can be called wicker. We import natural wicker pieces and high quality rattan, starting out with strong and sturdy natural frames and then wrapping and weaving the rattan or wicker to create unique designs. From gorgeous, Caramel-colored swivel rocking chairs to chic and modern dining sets, we offer high quality rattan furniture at great prices. Whether you're shopping for your home or want to bring a natural, easy-breezy style to the sitting room you use every day, there are beautiful, comfortable options ready for you to enjoy.

Fabric Ceiling Work

Car parking, Canopy & Shades

Shades are required for car parking to protect the cars from not only the elements like sun, wind and water etc but also from bird droppings, dust, dirt etc. Tensile Car Park Shades provides all these functionalities whilst not being eyesore i.e. they are aesthetically pleasing. SIOEN's PVC coated fabrics for car parking shades gives good aesthetic look to the structure, have a long life, easy to clean and are treated to be resistant to fungus, mildew, bacteria etc.

Acoustics

Acoustic Panels

Acoustic panels are sound absorbing panels placed on walls to control and reduce noise, eliminate slap echo and control comb filtering in a room. The objective is to enhance the properties of sound by improving sound quality with sound absorbing panels. Often used to treat recording studio acoustics, church acoustics, home theater acoustics, restaurant acoustics, and listening rooms, the purpose of acoustic panels is to reduce, but not entirely eliminate, resonance within the room. Acoustic panels differ from Bass Traps in that they deal more with the mid and high frequencies in a room. Sound absorption is different than soundproofing, which is typically used to keep sound from escaping a room.

Acoustic Curtains

Our custom made, laboratory tested and field proven Acoustic Quiet Curtains™ and Drapes reduce reverberation and echo, as well as reduce interference from outside noise. Acoustic Quiet Curtains have tested NRC values (up to 1.00 NRC) to provide precise acoustical control and flexibility. Acoustic Quiet Curtains work due to our unique combinations of fabrics, lining and construction. All Quiet Curtains are beautiful window treatments that look elegant and will be an asset to any room.

Acoustic Wall Paper

Acoustic wallpaper works by layering, instead of just being made up of a simple patterned sheet like most wallpapers is. It is made from multiple layers which help break up and disrupt sound waves as they travel through it. Some soundproof wallpapers also contain a layer of insulation inside them which further dampens your wall against sound. The primary benefit of soundproof wallpaper is that significantly cheaper than other soundproofing methods. You don't have to spend half of your family budget wallpaper your home.

Sound resistant wallpapers not only help (slightly) in providing a barrier from sounds entering your homes but also from them leaving as well. Watching movies, sports, games, music or basically, any form of stereo media just got better. It can help your lounge feel more like the local Odeon when you dim the lights and get a good film on.

Acoustic Carpet Tiles

Textile floor coverings offer a solution: By consciously dividing the floor space of your building into work, rest and meeting areas and distinguishing them through different flooring – such as wall-to-wall carpets, carpet tiles or rugs – you can significantly improve sound insulation and reduce ambient noise. Textile flooring absorbs more noise than any hard floor. This is how cars, in cars, trains, aero planes and offices improve their soundproofing by having floors covered with carpets.
